If a man be true to himself, it is important he should labor in some way and make earnings, and it is equally important that when he wishes to end those earnings, he should look to his bargains, and get the best value he can for his money. A great writer and philosopher, coming to his deathwrote these lines:

"Since I must bid this world adieu, let me my former life review.

I grant my bargains were well made, for all men should protect themselves in trade--It is self-defense in all professions: surely self-defense is no transgression."

And it is very plain at the close of one's life they may regret many things they have done, but they will not regret any honest bargains they may obtained. At the sign of the four red flags on Houston street we offer for sale two bankrupt stocks—the stock of Mr. E. S. Turk, of Fort Worth, pursed of Sheriff Maddox; the stock of Mr. Isaac Trepp, of Centralia, Illinois, purchased of Sheriff Mason, of St. Louis city. These two cost Mr. Turk Mr. Trepp about $35,000, and were purchased by me for cash for less than half that amount.

I will sell the goods at retail at about one-half to two-thirds of the usual retail price. Come and see them. If you don't want to buy, you welcome to look at the stock and price, and satisfy yourselves that, while all this is wonderful, it is all true. If you don't want to buy you will be eated politely, and you can tell your friends what you have seen with your own eyes.

The goods consist of Men's and Boys' Clothing, Men's and Boys' Boots and Shoes, Men's and Boys' Hats and Caps, Shirts, Collars, Gloves, Hosiery, ekwear, Underwear, Trunks and Valises. Such an offering at retail has never before occurred in the United States, and will probably never occur in Fort Worth again.

Any goods purchased of us, if not satisfactory to the buyer, can be returned the following day, and the money will be refunded. There will be no Ik upon the subject, more than to hand you the money-you will not be required or urged to buy something else in place of the goods you have returned. One price, and only one price, is a rigid rule of our business. We shall treat the rich and poor all alike; the money of one of them is just as good to us as of the other. The merchant that makes only one price must make a low one, or his one-price system will stop his sales. We will illustrate this plainly: Suppose we were a one-price store and asked high prices for our goods, as, for instance, $15, which is the usual price for a gent's all-wool indigo blue flannel suit. A buyer nes in and prices the goods, says he came in because we had advertised to sell cheap---and that $15 is not cheap for the goods. Out goes the buyer---the sale is lost. We are ne-priced house, you see, and cannot reduce the price to please him.

One price and high prices won't work---it has been tried a thousand times; but one price and low prices will work, and work good. We just ask $10 for the gent's all-wool indigo blue annel suit; the buyer says he will take it, the cash goes into the drawer, and we are ready for the next man. We can afford to sell the goods cheap---we bought at sheriffs' sales, and we bught cheap. We are often asked how we got all those cheap goods. To use a Texas expression, we RUSTLE for them, and, having been in the trade all our lives, we know a good bargain om a bad one as soon as we look at it---we take the good bargains, the bad ones we leave.

SAVED HIM 1.800 DOLLARS. your Kendall's Spayin Cure with First Success, I thought I would let you know what it has done for me. Two years ago I had as speedy a colt as was ever raised in Jefferson county. When I was breaking a me he kloked over the cross bar and got fast and to be of his hind legs all to pieces. I employed the best farriers, but they all said he was spoided. He had a very large thorough pin, and I used two bottles of your Kendall's spayin Care, and it took the bunch entirely off, and he sord afterwards for $1800 (dollars). I have used it for home spayins and wind griis, and it has always cured completely and left the leg smooth.

It is a splendid medicine for rheumatism. I have recommended it to a good many, and they all say it does the work. I was in Witherington & Kneeland's drug store, in Adams, the other day, and saw a very fine picture you sent them. I tried to any it, but could not; they said if I would write to you that you would send me one. I wish you would, and I will do you all the good I can.

Very respectfully. E. S. Lyman.

From the Akron Commercial, Ohio, of Nov. 25th, 1882.

Readers of the Commercial cannot well for get that a large space has for years been taken up by Kendall's advertisements—especially of a certain spayin Cure. We have had dealings with Dr. Kendall for many years, and we know of some large business houses in cities near by, who have also dealt with him for many years, and the trest is fully and faithfully proven, not only that he is a good, honest man, and that his celebrated Spayin are is not only all that it is recommended to be, but that the English language is not expable of recommending it too highly.

Kendall's Spayin Cure will cure spayins. There are hundreds of cases in which that has been proven to our certain knowledge, but, after all, if any person confines the usefulness of this celebrated medicine to curing spayins alone, they make a big mistaks. It is the best medicine known as an outward application for rhenmatism in the human family. It is good for pains and aches, swellings and lameness, and is just as safely applied to men, women and children as it is to horses. We know that there are other good liminents, but we do believe this spayin cure to be far better than any ever invented.

It has been used in thousands of cases on human flesh with such wonderful success that we now feel certain it is the best liniment known for man, as it has sufficient strength to posetrate and virtue to curs the worst cases, which are not affected in the least by ordisary liniments, and yet it does not blister or cause a sore.
